SOLICITATION:

The City of Tucson and Pima County are collaborating to address capital needs of the emergency and transitional housing facilities with attention to the safety, health and green improvements for these facilities that are owned or leased by non-profit agencies. Poster Frost Mirto conducted an assessment of the homeless shelters and transitional housing in Tucson and Pima County for the purpose of developing capital and maintenance public policy and investment strategies to make that specialized housing inventory safer, healthier and greener for the agencies and their clients. The document is referred to as the Green and Healthy Assessment of Pima County's Emergency Shelters and Transitional Housing ("Assessment").

Only agencies that have participated in the Assessment are eligible to apply. The participating agencies may apply to address facility improvements as recommended by the Assessment. Should an agency that was not included in the original Assessment wants to be considered at a future point in time, they may submit their agency program for consideration should additional funds be allocated for future assessment.
