Hard to believe, but 2013 will be here before you know it. As you fill out your planning calendars for the New Year, remember to designate April as

Arizona Water Awareness Month

There are lots of great opportunities to help every Arizona resident learn about the importance of water through social media and fun, hands-on activities and events.

The WAM website is now your One-Stop-Shop for water-related resources. Help your customers become water savvy and more water efficient ...no matter where they live in Arizona.

Be on the lookout for new and improved information starting in January, and help make WAM 2013 another great success!
