

PIMA COUNTY ELECTION INTEGRITY COMMISSION
MEETING MINUTES FOR JULY 15, 2016

<http://www.pima.gov/commission/ElectionIntegrity.shtml>

The Pima County Election Integrity Commission met in regular session on July 15, 2016 at 9:00 a.m. in the Herbert K. Abrams Building, 3rd Floor Conference Rooms 3108/3110 at 3950 S. Country Club Road, Tucson, Arizona.

ITEM 1. ROLL CALL

Present: Brian Bickel, Beth Borozan, Brad Nelson, Barbara Tellman, Jeff Rogers, Arnie Urken, Mary DeCamp. Bill Beard arrived right after the roll call; Tom Ryan attended the meeting via phone conferencing and connected after the roll call.

Absent: Karen Schutte, Chris Cole.

Also in Attendance: Tom Quigley, Sr. Elections Technician and David Wisely, Elections Technician with the IT Section in the Elections Department.

ITEM 2. PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

The American flag was saluted with the Pledge of Allegiance.

ITEM 3. APPROVAL OF MINUTE SUMMARY – June 10, 2016

It was moved by Brian Bickel, seconded by Beth Borozan and carried unanimously to approve the Minutes of the June 10, 2016 meeting.

ITEM 4. CALL TO PUBLIC

No public observers present.

ITEM 5. PROBLEMS WITH SECRETARY OF STATE'S WEBSITE – Barbara Tellman

Barbara said that Tom Ryan sent a letter to the Secretary of State's office asking them to attend this EIC meeting, either in person or by conference call, but they have not responded [a copy of this letter is incorporated into these Minutes as Attachment 1].

Tom Ryan noted that a fairly recent entry on the Secretary of State's blog page that says they are back online and they didn't find any evidence of malware or command and control software. Arnie added that inadvertent error should also be investigated, to the degree possible, testing the code. That should also be taken into account in evaluating the site.

Brad added that when Mr. Huckelberry was alerted to the Secretary of State's voter registration problem, he asked the County IT Department to come do a review of both the elections system and voter registration system. That report is being written now, and Brad is certain it will be made available to the public once it comes out. Brad explained that the Procedures Manual requires that all counties have a stand-alone, air gap tabulation system not hooked up to any other system. ITD reviewed the Procedures Manual and procedures used by the Elections Department that exceed requirements in the Procedures Manual; for example, the use of a split password. Brad believes that the report will reveal that the elections system is just fine.

Tom asked Brad about the timeline for this report; Brad responded he is not sure, but that it is a report from the County IT Department to Mr. Huckelberry and will address only Pima County's environment. It will not address the Secretary of State's voter registration system. Barbara asked if the Commission should send a follow-up letter to the Secretary of State with more specific questions; Brad responded that as this situation unfolded the Secretary of State send out frequent communications to county recorders and elections directors. One of the things yet to be determined is, how was the problem found, e.g., routine maintenance or did an event actually occur? The recorders are particularly interested in knowing what happened so they can change whatever environment that problem existed in.

Barbara suggested this item be kept on the agenda to discuss at the next meeting; Bill Beard concurred. Tom didn't see any reason to write another letter to the Secretary of State, but there may be updates given to the counties.

Brian Bickel asked if the Secretary of State has done anything to accommodate clean elections candidates; Jeff saw something in the paper about perhaps lowering the number of $5 contributions that candidates need to qualify.

ITEM 6. UPDATE ON PPE REIMBURSEMENT FROM SOS – Brad Nelson

Brad could only speak about the reimbursement for the Elections Department. They asked for approximately $628,000 for the PPE. On June 22nd, they received a check for approximately $588,000, about 93% of what was asked for. It seems that the Secretary of State's office assumed that the compensation requested for Sheriff's Deputies was for officers who were already on duty and being paid by the Sheriff's office. Brad let them know that these were off-duty Deputies to be paid from the Elections Department budget. He is expecting to receive the balance very soon. Brad understands the Recorder did receive quite a bit of the funds that she requested.

Brad also noted that in speaking with the Chief Financial Officer in the Secretary of State's office, he was told that Pima County provided the best documentation of all the counties within the State of Arizona.

With regard to the reimbursement for the May election, Pima County is requesting approximately $567,000 but has not heard back on that.

ITEM 7. PLANS FOR AUGUST 30, 2016 PRIMARY ELECTION – Brad Nelson

Brad made reference to the Events Calendar that is provided as a handout [a copy of this Calendar is incorporated into these Minutes as Attachment 2]. He pointed out the official Logic and Accuracy

Test as performed by the Arizona Secretary of State in the event Commission members might wish to watch.

Brad said ballots are being printed; the overseas ballots will be going out today. The poll worker training class schedule will be posted online. All things are a go. Poll workers in the Green Valley/Sahuarita area were a little low, but an article ran in the Green Valley News which elicited a huge response. There are approximately 240 polling places; those are listed online, as well.

ITEM 8. PRIMARY CANDIDATE CHALLENGES

Brad reported that they are all settled, as ballots are being printed. There were either challenges or withdrawals in Board of Supervisors, JP, and Constable races. The last one was a U.S. Senate challenge that was just settled.

ITEM 9. RISK LIMITING AUDIT PILOT STUDY – Tom Ryan / Brad Nelson

- Status on Elections Department Preparations for Mock Election
- Possible Dates for Mock Election
- Possible City Participation

Tom said that David Wisely had sent him some data files used to create the cast vote record, and answered all his questions. Tom said the data looks good. He asked if David had an update on the subject.

The Elections Department ordered 30,000 ballots from the printer, 29,700 pre-marked and 300 blank (the printer actually shorted them by one pre-marked ballot). David brought an example of the mock ballot in eight ballot styles which also includes the summary report when the first [29,700] were run through [copies of the summary report and ballots are incorporated into these Minutes as Attachment 3A], and a mock cast vote record [copies of the cast vote record are incorporated into these Minutes as Attachments 3B]. The ballots were run through to make sure the ballots are good and to test the system. They did not actually perform the RLA.

Brad added that part of the mock election was to see just how much resource the exercise consumed; how might we go about doing an RLA in the most efficient manner. David said one reason for the additional 300 blank ballots is to experiment with triggering an automatic recount. The extra ballots could be used to change the outcome of the final question on the ballot to either a tie or automatic recount.

Brian asked if there were ballots that would require more than one pass through the tabulation equipment. In a real election, there are always ballots that require being sent through the tabulation equipment more than once, and we need to make sure we know how to reorient the ballots so that one serial number doesn't get applied over another. Brian then asked, if the ballots are not properly reoriented and the serial number is applied over the prior one, are we introducing a significant opportunity for failure because someone doesn't orient the ballots correctly on subsequent runs? Tom added that this is an issue that needs to be looked at, to find out if people are careful in how they run the ballots.

Tom has another suggestion for the blank ballots; they could be used to introduce under- and over-votes. Those could cause some confusion in subsequent audits. David said that can be done as well as write-ins.

Barbara asked David to explain, for the benefit of the new Green Party EIC member, how a real mock election would work. David explained that this would be a mock risk-limiting audit, or RLA. They generated a fake election, based on the last Oscars, then generated fake ballots as if they had been voted. The ballots will be run through the tabulating equipment and results generated, in addition to creating a cast vote record. The RLA is simply a test to gauge if the outcomes are correct or wrong. It is based on the margin of victory and number of ballots cast. Random ballot serial numbers are chosen, the associated paper ballots are pulled and compared with the computer interpretation of those same ballots. If they match, you move towards the predetermined percentage of confidence; if they don't match, you move away from that confidence level. The developer of this method says that you will be able to look at fewer ballots, but get a level of confidence you don't get from other methods. You reach a point where you can say, "We are within, say 10% of not making an error in the outcome." Fewer ballots means fewer people to perform the audit. Mary DeCamp asked if the votes on the ballots were hand filled or machine generated; David responded that they were machine generated. They told the printer to print up so many of each style ballot, simply to save resources. They could have gotten a greater variation if they had been hand marked, but then staff would have needed to spend days marking them.

Barbara wanted to make it clear to the new EIC member that this is not a substitution for the hand count audit or the Logic and Accuracy test, which are both required by law. This would be an additional check.

Tom asked if David or anyone had a chance to look at Dr. Stark's online calculators; Arnie has not had a chance, and David has looked briefly at them. Tom then said he is worried about the cut-and-paste process in creating the cast vote record from two other files of serial numbers and ballot results. David responded that running it through Access as opposed to Excel would provide internal checks.

Tom asked Jeff Rogers if he had any information on the possible City participation in doing an RLA; Jeff responded that he had put in a call to the City Clerk's office. They were going to talk to the City Attorney's office to see what their position is.

Addressing the subject of possible dates, Brad asked who wants to be present for the mock RLA; Tom would like to be there. Tom suggested that it be done as soon after the General Election as feasible. He would like to take the results from the General Election, not look at the ballots, but do the math on the estimated number of ballots and compare that to what we actually need to do for the mock election. It would not require pulling any ballots from the General Election, but just do the math part. Brad added that the State won't canvass the election until early December, so we would be looking at mid-December at the earliest. Brian asked if he and Jeff should participate, since they may both be on the ballot. Brad's "two cents worth" is that the Board of Supervisors will canvass the General Election on November 22. There are a certain number of days for someone to challenge the election, or go to a recount if necessary. If we are looking at mid-December, the election is done.

ITEM 10. ELECTION DATABASE STRUCTURE AND DISTRIBUTION – Tom Ryan

Now that the cast vote record has been created, Tom Ryan would like to see that be part of the distribution. The other thing is he would like to create an SOVC for each day of counting. Tom Quigley responded that a CSV file, a sample of which Dr. Ryan has already seen, can be created for each day that can be used to do the forensic analysis. A cast vote record can't be produced without saving and transferring ballot images. Tom Quigley has spoken with multiple people at ES&S, and there is no way around that. Barbara asked if the decision had been made to not capture images; Tom Quigley and Brad both responded that the decision has been made. Tom explained that currently, after results are transferred to the server, the DS850 [scanners] are cleared out on a daily basis to avoid any possibility of someone "peeking" at election results. Brian asked, if the system tabulates votes from the image of the ballots, and you aren't saving images, then you aren't saving what votes were tabulated from. There is no way of matching the results to the images. Brad suggested that is done during the audits and the post-election Logic and Accuracy Test. Bill Beard asked if Brian's point of not saving what was used for tabulating would leave the County open to a lawsuit. Brad explained that there are numerous issues about images that have not yet been addressed by the Procedures Manual, including whether images are eligible for public records request. Barbara asked if to anyone's knowledge there is anyone in Arizona saving images; Brad responded that to his knowledge, no. Brad believes that there are seven of the 15 Arizona counties that are on the same election system.

Brad notified the Commission that Ken Carbullido has left ES&S as of July 1st. Brad doesn't know at the moment who will replace him as that resource.

Tom expressed the opinion that the cast vote record data should not necessarily be tied to images. It should be possible to be able to transfer data without transferring images. Tom Quigley responded that this is an issue for ES&S to answer. Arnie suggested perhaps Tom Ryan could write a letter to the other counties using this system to see if they are concerned about this; Tom would rather get information from ES&S.

Brian asked if the two extra scanners had arrived; Brad responded that the high-speed scanners are actually built in Germany. Somewhere along the way, the two brand new 850's got damaged beyond almost all recognition. They arrived with a hole literally pierced through the top of the box, denting and piercing the scanner inside the box. When ES&S was alerted, they immediately came, as well as the trucking company's insurance representative. They turned it around within a week. ES&S is in Omaha; they decided they weren't going to risk it again so they got their own van, their own driver, drove directly here, delivered the new ones and took the damaged ones back. Customer service is excellent with this company.

ELECTION INTEGRITY COMMISSION

Pima County, Arizona

July 11, 2016

Honorable Michele Reagan
Arizona Secretary of State
1700 West Washington Street, Floor 7
Phoenix, Arizona 85007-2808

RE: WEBSITE PROBLEMS

Dear Secretary Reagan,

The Pima County Election Integrity Commission requests that you provide information about the recent problems with your website at our July 15 meeting. We are especially interested in what you have discovered about whether the site was hacked and if so, how it happened, what problems resulted, and how the problems were remedied. We are concerned about possible future problems that could possibly affect not only your site but ours as well.

We would appreciate it if you or a representative would attend our meeting either in person or by conference call. Our meeting begins at 9:00 a.m. and we would fit you in whenever convenient for you.

Please respond to let us know if you can support this request.

Sincerely,

Tom Ryan
Chair, Pima County Election Integrity Commission
