Re: Elections Department Performance Regarding the Presidential Preference Election

As we have done over a number of past elections, we utilized appropriate audit and control mechanisms regarding the performance of every voting area precinct involved in conducting the election. We have also ensured appropriate controls are implemented regarding the equipment and materials utilized, received, organized and filed at the polling place; appropriate security controls regarding seals; custody requirements regarding the ballots; and other measures, checklists, and observation to insure transparency of the ballot counting process on the tabulation system, all of which are designed to ensure election integrity. The hand count audit performed matched the electronic tabulation for the audited precincts or batches exactly.

I have attached the voting area evaluations of the recent Presidential Preference Election. Overall performance of the voting area election workers was positive, with significant compliance requirements related to equipment receipts, security and other matters. The overall percentage performances are located on the last page of the attached spreadsheet. A significant number of precincts performed well. As always, feedback will be given to poll workers regarding issues that arose during the election process regarding performance improvement.
