Hello Sharon,
I hope you are well, and your family, too. All is well in Arivaca (as far as I know). It's been a while since we last spoke about Irma Dunham. At that time you mentioned perhaps having some money available towards something at the Arivaca Clinic that may symbolize Irma. I think we have something: a store in Tubac sells sculptures of Prickly Pear cacti, both in a purple hue, and in a green, about three ft. tall or so, that would look nice in the front planter at the Arivaca Clinic. I believe the price is around $175.00 each, and two would be a good balance. They would be installed in cement. I'm not sure they would produce syrup, but we will try our best!
Please let me know, at your convenience, what your thoughts are about this.
Take good care, and please know how much we appreciate you.
Your loyal supporter,
Wendy Dresang
