Re: Pima County Library Annual Report 2017–2018

I am pleased to enclose the Pima County Public Library Annual Report 2017-2018. This document contains many great articles that demonstrate the ways the Pima County Library is helping the community, including:

- Page 4: Visits to Oasis Assisted Living by Miller-Golf Links Library Associate Amy Bivins, where Memory Kits are created and older adults form friendships and recall fond memories.
- Page 9: Code Club at Nanini Library where kids ages eight and up are learning programming languages and becoming critical thinkers.
- Page 14: GED Help at Martha Cooper Library, where a recovering addict credits Library staff for her first year of sobriety.
- Page 16: Meet the Kindred Team, a group of like-minded staff dedicated to reaching, supporting and celebrating the black community.
- Page 22: Features highlights from the Arizona Daily Star monthly column to see what drives and inspires talented Library staff.

This year's Annual Report demonstrates impact, including real stories about real people who regularly rely on the Library. Ultimately, it shows how important libraries are as community hubs, learning centers and places where people launch dreams.
