Re: Additional One Percent Constitutional State Aid to Education Declining Cost Liability for the State

As you will recall, the Arizona State Legislature has twice now attempted to shift the cost of this State Aid to Education required by Arizona Constitutional property tax limitations for residentially occupied structures to either Pima County or school districts.

Attached is an analysis regarding this additional one-percent Constitutional State Aid to Education by fiscal year (Attachment 1). It should be noted that the one-percent Constitutional property tax limitation for residentially occupied structures was enacted in a 1980 Constitutional amendment that limits the primary property tax rate for all jurisdictions at $10 per $100 of assessed value. This means if the combined primary property tax rates of Pima County, the school districts, cities or towns and community colleges exceeds $10, then the additional property tax liability would be paid for by the State.

This State tax liability has been cut by over three-quarters since 2017/2018 when the State initially tried to place the entire liability of this additional State Aid to Education on the County. This action resulted in litigation and the County prevailed. In 2018/19 this tax liability was attempted to be shifted to school districts with a desegregation levy. The County refused to levy an illegal tax and litigation ensued. The County, in Maricopa County Tax Court, recently won that litigation as well.

Also attached is a table that shows the various tax liabilities over the last 22 years (Attachment 2). It varies significantly and often follows general economic conditions in the State. When times are good, the tax liability is relatively low or non-existent. In times of recession, tax liability grows and typically lags the real economy by three or more years, since property tax base responds to the real economy in a slow manner. We are hopeful this dramatically decreasing tax liability for the State will deter the Legislature from, once again, attempting to shift this tax liability to a local government or school district.

- Notes:
- 1/ Primary property tax rates are shown for homes located in Tucson Unified School District and the City of Tucson. Homes located in TUSD and the City of South Tucson or in the unincorporated area of TUSD have slightly lower primary property tax rates.
 - 2/ When Net Primary Tax Rate is less than $10.0000, highly valued homes may still receive Additional 1% State Aid to ensure primary taxes do not exceed one percent of Limited Value.
 - 3/ Legislation which became effective from and after Fiscal Year 2011/12 decreased the amount of Base State Aid, thus significantly impacting Tucson Unified School District homeowners.
 - 4/ Figures for Tax Year 2020 (FY2020/21) are based on the actual amounts for secured property and estimates for unsecured property.
