Re: Temperature and Wellness Screening Benefits

I previously reported on centralized wellness screening and temperature checks and the number of individuals turned away because excess temperature.

We now have data from outlying county facilities where this testing has been ongoing.

The department that has discovered and have turned away the greatest number of persons due to high temperatures is Pima Animal Care Center (PACC). Since May 10, 2020 they have conducted 20,570 temperature screenings; which is in average 174 each day. To date they have turned away 18 persons due to high temperatures, all members of the public. PACC has turned away more high temperatures than any other county department or agency. Other departments that are close are; Adult Probation East office with 14 high temperatures discovered and turned away and the Adult Probation South office with 12 high temperatures discovered and turned away.

This data confirms that the wellness and temperature screening is reducing risk to members of the public and county employees of risk of contracting COVID-19.
