Re: 2006 Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) Election in Pima County

Dear Mr. Goddard:

Thank you for your efforts in hand-counting the RTA Election ballots. The results of the hand count prove without a doubt that no tampering by any County employee occurred regarding the election.

This hand-count also proved that the affidavit submitted with the request for a criminal investigation of the RTA Election contained false statements, and may indicate a criminal conspiracy among the individuals who may have knowingly prepared and submitted the false affidavit. I would request that you take the appropriate action to investigate and prosecute those who may be involved in false swearing or any other criminal activity that caused considerable public funds to be expended for no reason other than to disprove a knowingly false allegation.

Again, thank you for your assistance in resolving the outrageous claims against Pima County.

Sincerely,
