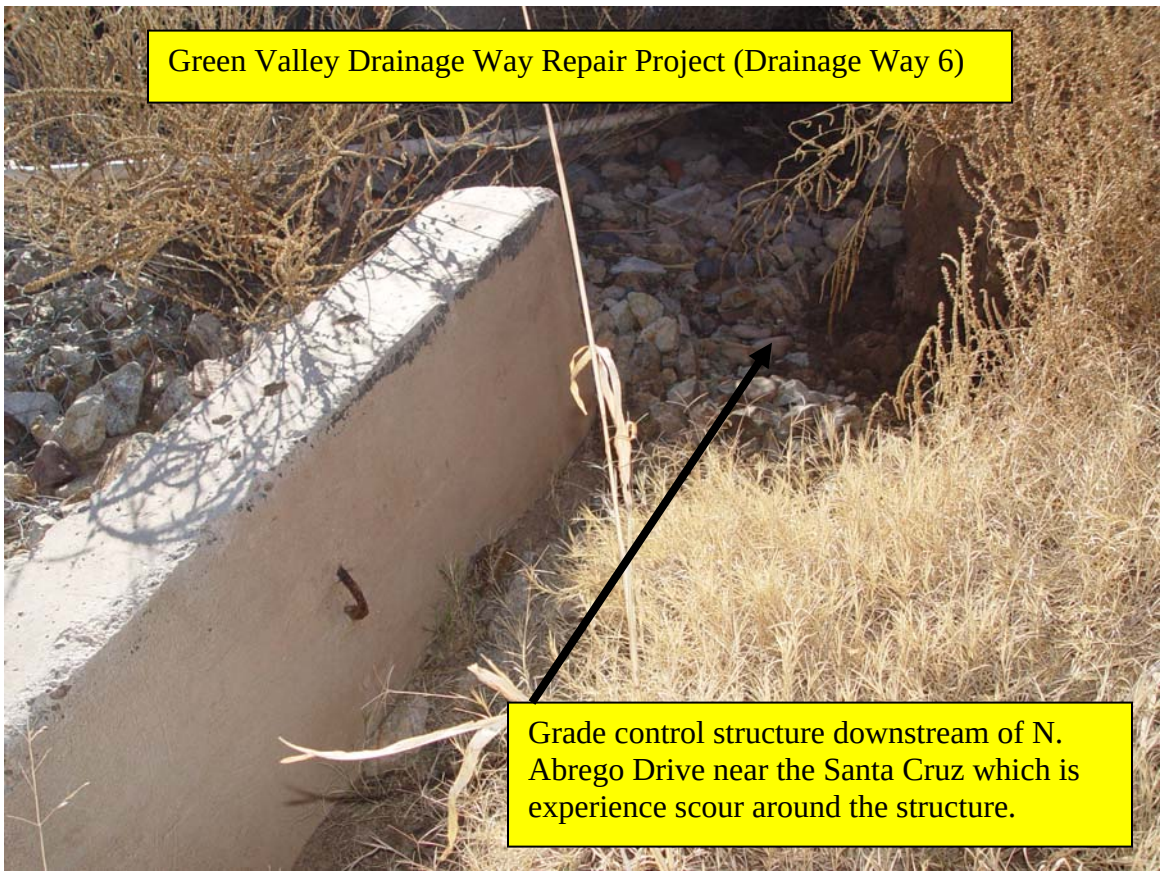
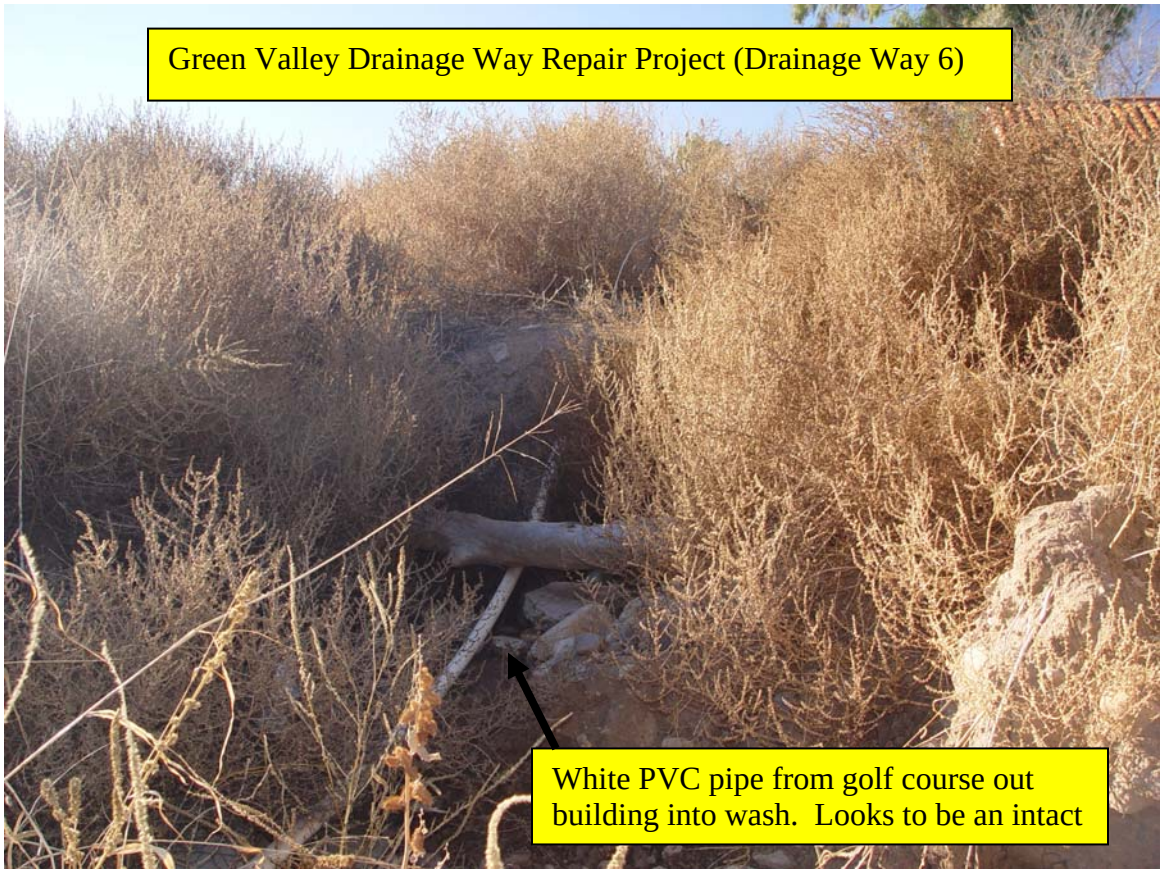
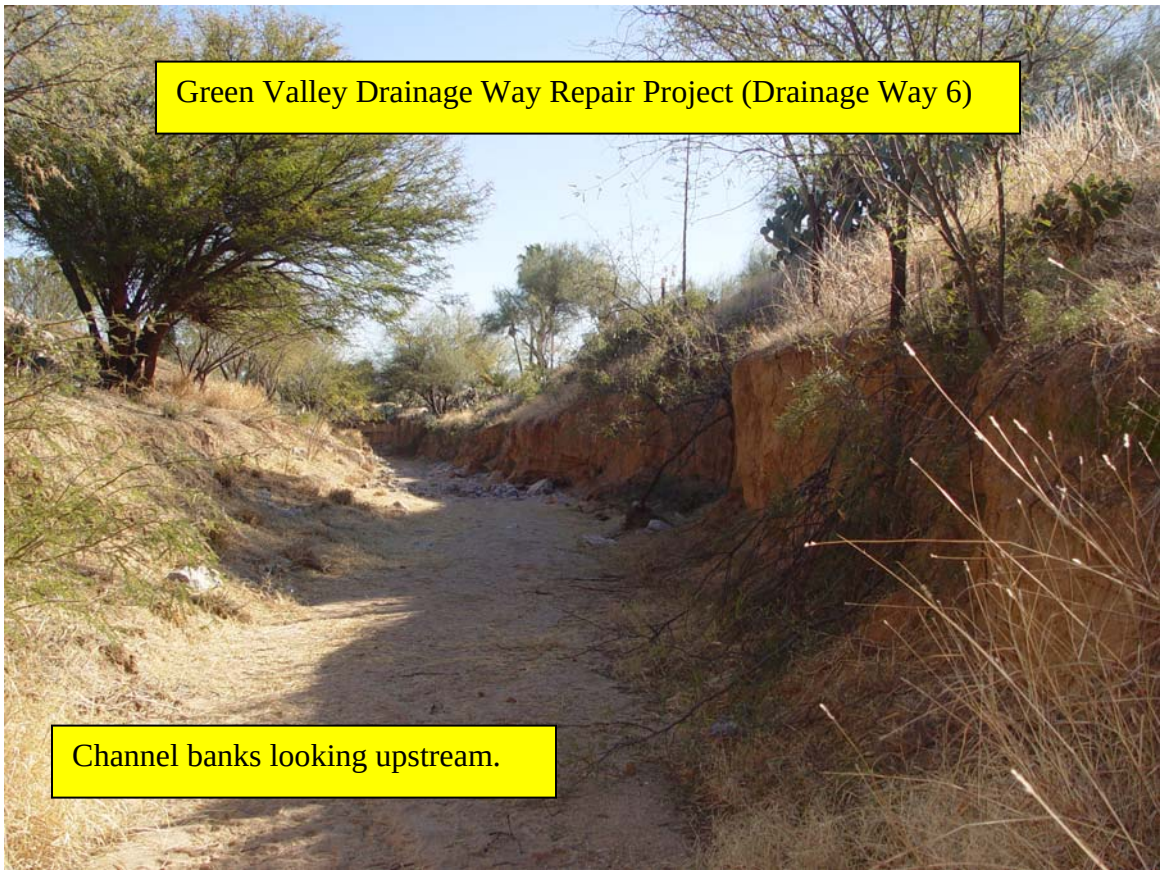
PHOTOGRAPHIC LOG
Site Visit: January 2, 11 and 15, 2009

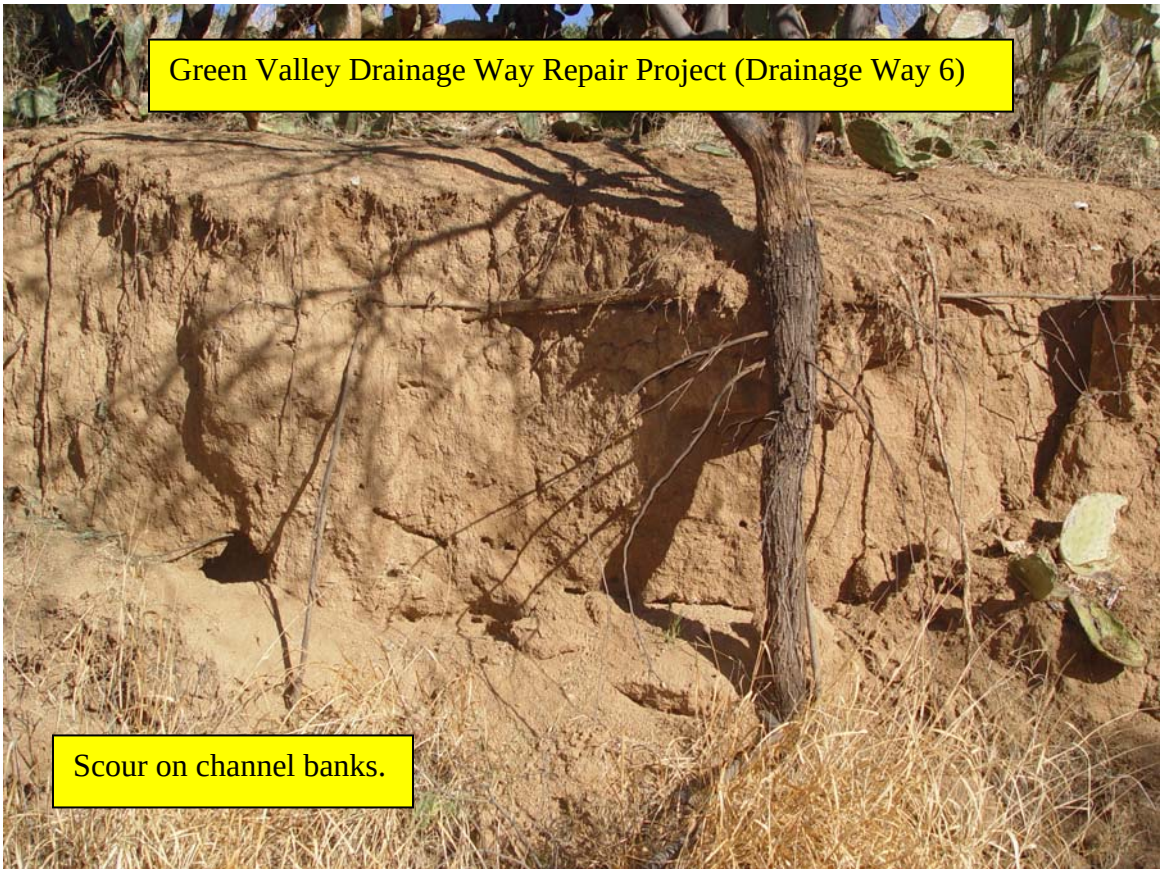




Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)
White PVC pipe from golf course out building into wash. Looks to be an intact

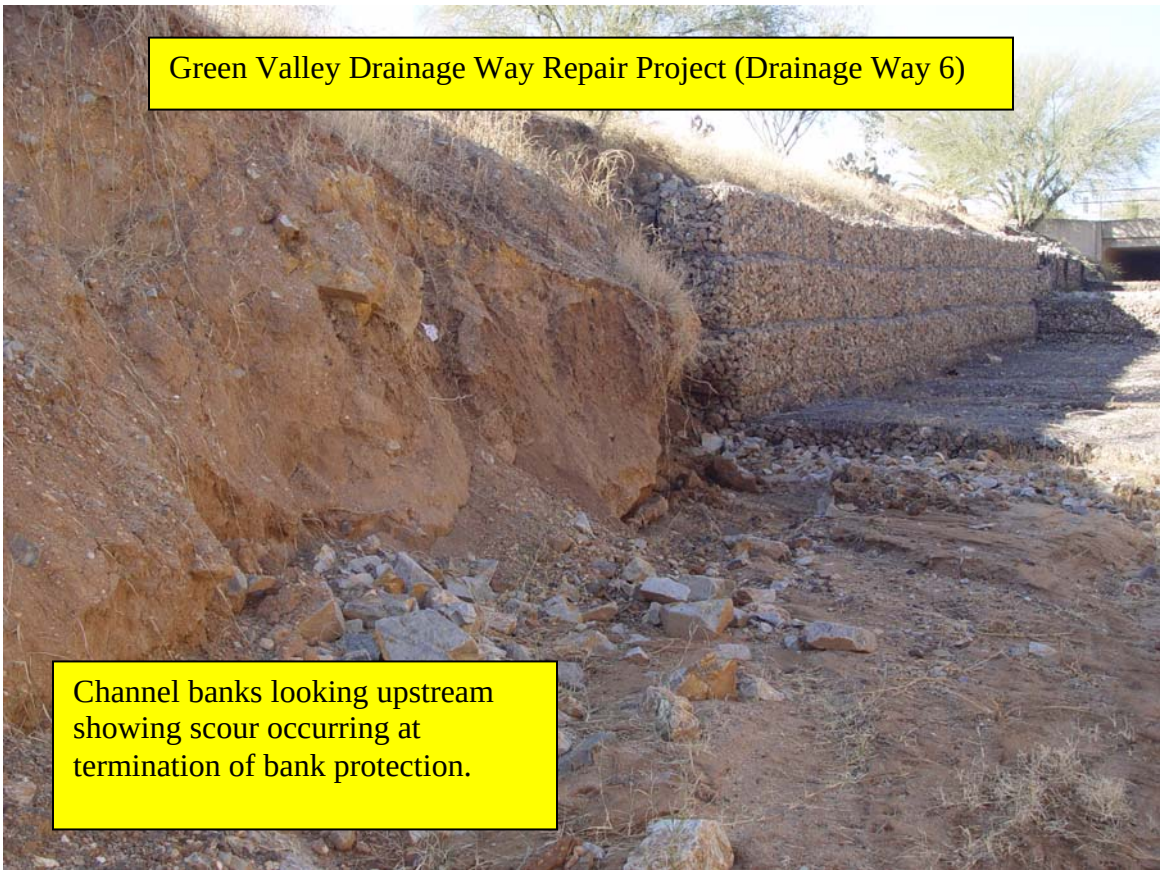


Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)
Channel banks looking upstream.

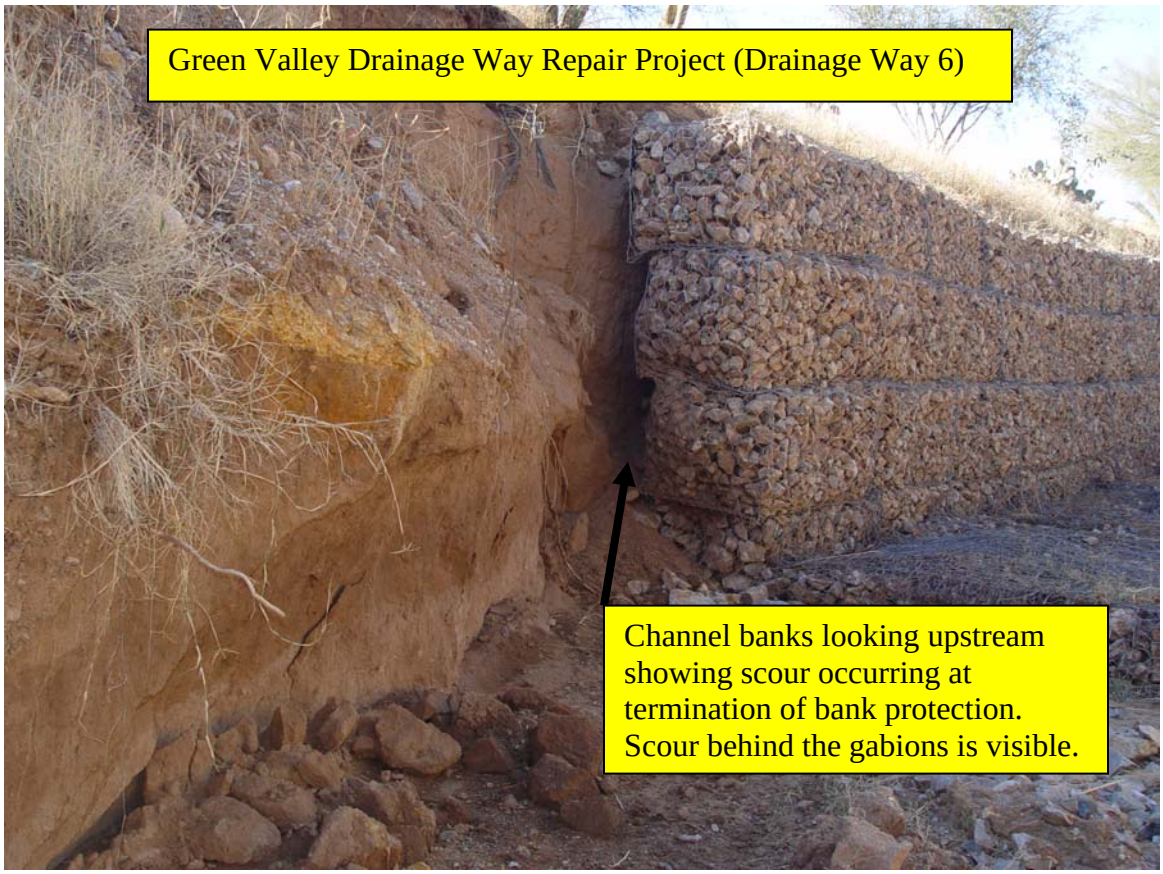


Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)
Scour on channel banks.

Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)
Channel banks looking upstream.

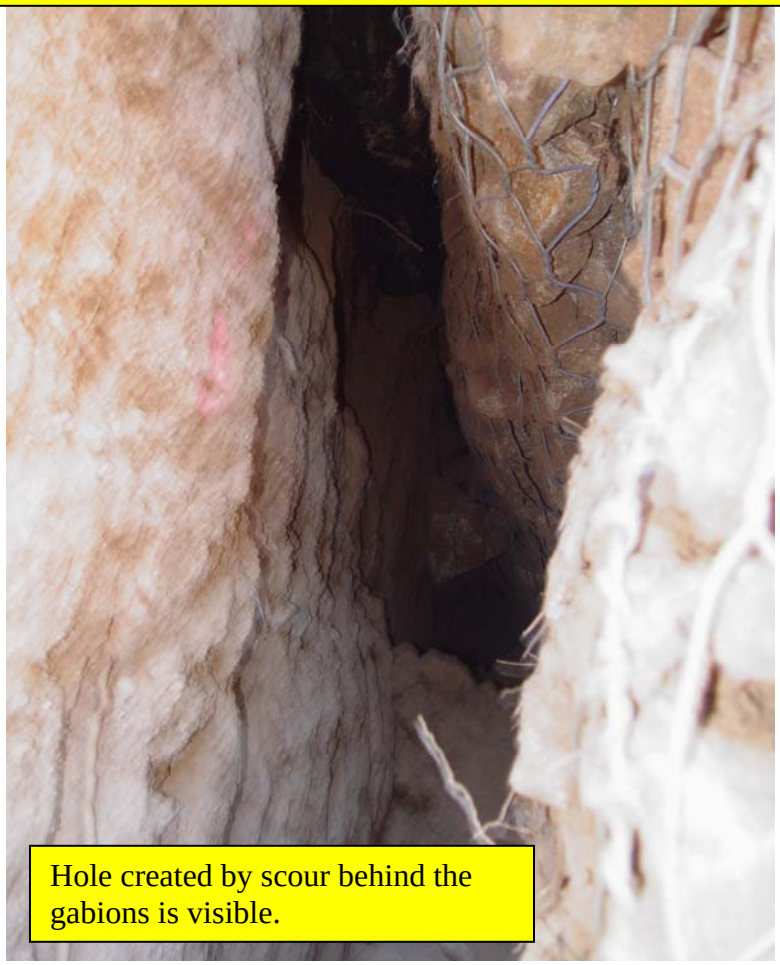


Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)
Channel banks looking upstream showing scour occurring at termination of bank protection.



Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)
Channel banks looking upstream showing scour occurring at termination of bank protection. Scour behind the gabions is visible.

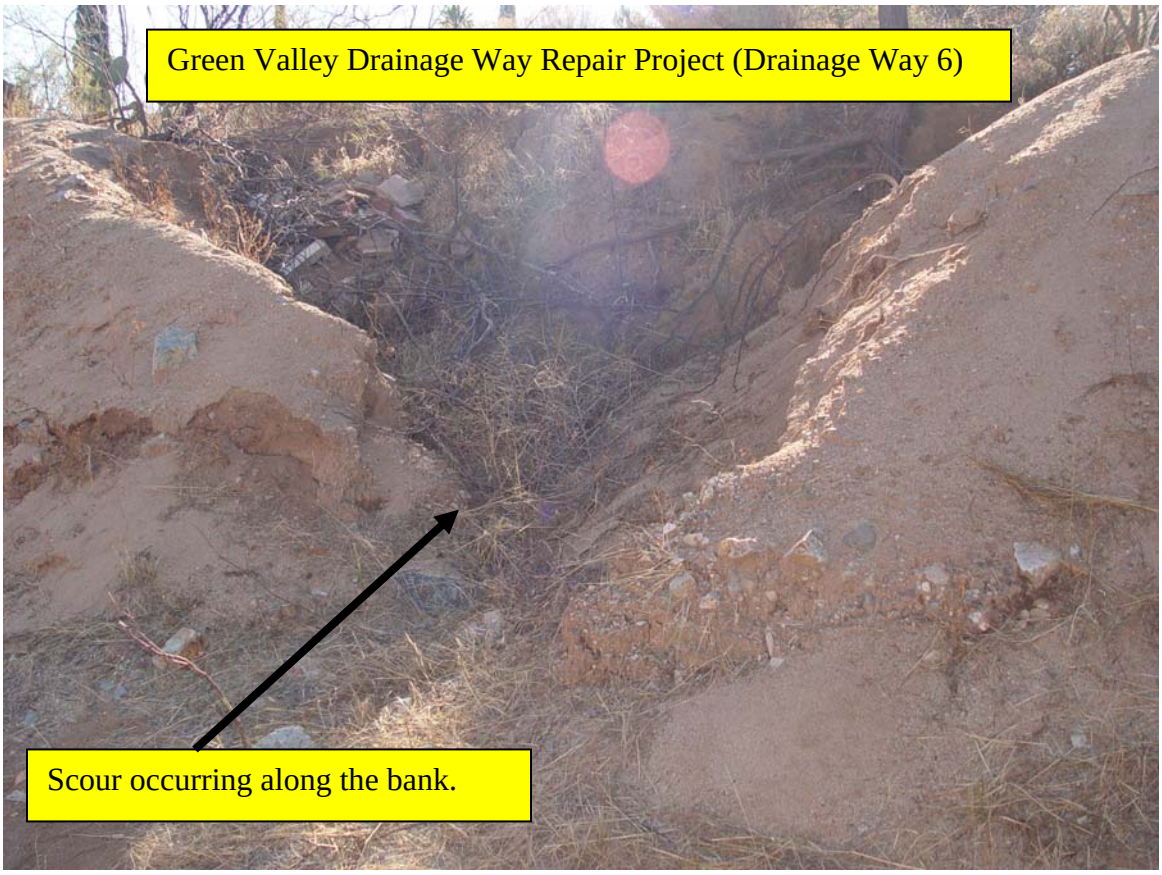
Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)



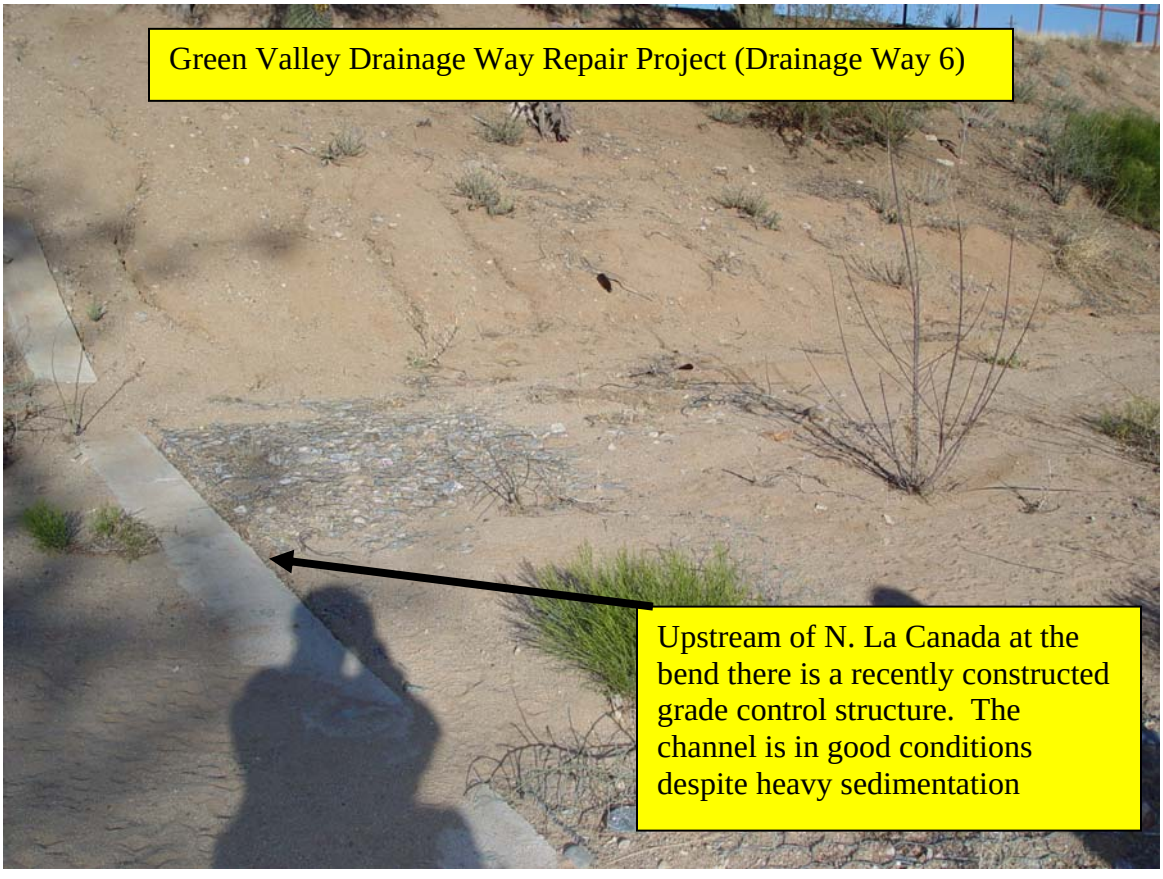
Hole created by scour behind the gabions is visible.

Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)

Channel banks looking upstream showing scour occurring at termination of bank protection.



Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)
Scour occurring along the bank.



Green Valley Drainage Way Repair Project (Drainage Way 6)
Upstream of N. La Canada at the bend there is a recently constructed grade control structure. The channel is in good conditions despite heavy sedimentation