SIGNIFICANCE

To be eligible for the National Register of Historic Places, a property must represent an important part of the history or architecture of an area. Note: a property need only be significant under one of the areas below to be eligible for the National Register.

- A. HISTORIC EVENTS/TRENDS (On a continuation sheet describe how the property is associated either with a significant historic event, or with a trend or pattern of events important to the history of the nation, the state, or a local community.)
- B. PERSON (On a continuation sheet describe how the property is associated with the life of a person significant in the past.)
- C. ARCHITECTURE (On a continuation sheet describe how the property embodies the distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction, or that represents the work of a master, or possesses high artistic values.)

Outbuildings: (Describe any other buildings or structures on the property and whether they may be considered historic.)

INTEGRITY

To be eligible for the National Register, a property must have integrity, that is, it must be able to visually convey its importance. Provide detailed information below about the property's integrity. Use continuation sheets if necessary.

1. LOCATION X Original Site Moved (date _____) Original Site: _____

2. DESIGN (Describe alterations from the original design, including dates—known or estimated—when alterations were made)

All plan documents of the Fort show this to be another officer quarters with summer kitchen and this is corroborated in People of Fort Lowell, where Dolly Cates is reported to have bought the westernmost three Officer's Quarters with summer kitchens for her TB sanitarium. However the HABS drawings show a stable with a store room, and the water tank (or a silo, typical of Mormon concrete construction) between the two. Ruins confirm the HABS configuration.

3. SETTING (Describe the natural and/or built environment around the property)

Set about 7 miles outside of the City of Tucson, on the flats south of the Rillito River, the site was a verdant riparian area, with large cottonwood, ash, walnut and elderberry trees lining the river, bottomlands filled with dense mesquite bosques, and green grasses covering the valley floor.

Describe how the setting has changed since the property's period of significance:

The site is now surrounded by typical Tucson suburban residential neighborhood development; bordered on the east by a busy four-lane street. The site, since the purchase from the Sanitarium in 1928, has housed a steel fabrication shop, and was littered with old cars, bits of metal, parts of industrial machinery, and general debris.

4. MATERIALS (Describe the materials used in the following elements of the property)

Walls (structure): Unstabilized Mud Adobe Foundation: None (adobe) Roof: Wood framed with sahuaro latillas supporting an earthen roof, covered with metal in 1880's _____

Windows: Wood _____

If the windows have been altered, what were they originally? _____

Wall Sheathing: _____

If the sheathing has been altered, what was it originally? _____

5. WORKMANSHIP (Describe the distinctive elements, if any, of craftsmanship or method of construction)

Typical of indigenous Mexican-influenced adobe construction - _____
