

The background of the image is a collage of travel-related items. At the top, there's a wooden surface. Below it, a map of the world is spread out, showing continents and oceans. A brass compass is visible on the left side, and a portion of a brown leather passport cover with the word 'PASSPORT' embossed on it is at the bottom left. A pair of silver tweezers is on the right side, resting on the map. The text is overlaid on this background.
