Tucson Water Statement of Sustainability

December 2008

Tucson Water is pursuing a sustainable water future within its service area through a multi-faceted, strategic water management program. Increased water resource reliability and flexibility will be realized through rigorous demand management programs to increase water use efficiency, prudent management of groundwater, full utilization of available renewable water supplies, and acquisition of additional renewable resources. This inclusive management strategy enhances the resilience of our community's water resource portfolio and our capacity to meet the needs of current and future residents.
